About Us

Hermes Centro Studi Europeo is an independent, private, non-profit think tank established on 12 November 2014. It examines the political, economic, social and strategic changes connecting Italy with Europe and the wider international community.

We turn knowledge into informed decisions: we identify needs, analyse data and legislation, develop proposals and encourage dialogue among businesses, researchers and institutions.

Through Strategia Italia, our platform for ideas, dialogue and content, we connect analysis of current affairs with the needs of organisations and public decision-making.
